Privacy

Web by Pixel, LLC does not share any user provided data with 3rd parties. We collect information used to identify the users of the service (name, email address and personal login). Users can also upload images and other data. No user provided data or meta data about the user will be shared or sold.

The system uses cookies to identify a user within a given session and to provide a customized experience for each user.